

UK Construction Industry KPIs

This is a highly complex project to collect and analyse national data for the UK construction industry.

Amazia is a leading member of the team which includes fifteen partners. The primary purposes of the KPIs are:

- To drive continuous improvement in the UK construction industry by helping companies benchmark their performance against national data.
- To provide trend data to government and other policy development bodies.

Since the first publication in 1999, the project scope has broadened to cover all major sectors of the UK industry, environmental issues, and people management KPIs.

The project involved:

- Establishment of an industry-wide expert panel to identify a suite of KPIs of general use to the industry and its clients.
- Identification of existing national data sources
- Commissioning new data collection
- Development of analysis methodologies
- Publication of the results

Originally published in hard copy, the outputs are now published on KPIzone (www.kpizone.com) which is available on annual subscription.
